EVIDENCE LADDER

Formula disclosure is one layer.

Separate what the seller identifies, what the regulator explains and what the review packet cannot establish.

01

Official offer facts

Disclosed actives: estriol 0.3%, vitamin C 5%, hydrolyzed hyaluronic acid 0.5%. The seller describes provider review and pharmacy fulfillment.

02

FDA context

FDA does not pre-verify compounded drugs for safety, effectiveness or quality. This context alone does not determine this product's quality or outcome.

03

Unanswered questions

A complete label, finished-product clinical evidence and full post-purchase terms are missing from this packet. Ingredient rationale cannot fill those gaps.

A prescription review is a process; it does not itself prove a cosmetic result.

WHAT THE PAGE SAYS

No auto-billing. Automatic refund if the physician does not approve. These are captured seller statements.

WHAT STILL NEEDS AN ANSWER

Post-shipment refunds, cancellation handling, pharmacy identity, delivery and the timing of each charge.

Displayed monthly figures are not evidence of a cancellable monthly payment plan.

Captured seller prices, including displayed rounding differences. Verify the final checkout total and all terms.

BUYER DECISION WORKSHEET

Set an evidence threshold.

Start with the disclosed facts, write down what is missing and decide which answers are necessary before purchase.

CHECKPOINT	KNOWN / NEED TO VERIFY	MY EVIDENCE / DECISION
Exact formula	Three actives disclosed; obtain the complete label.
Medical fit	Review process described; individual assessment needed.
Product results	Seller claims supplied; finished-product evidence absent.
Cost	Plan figures captured; verify the actual charge and terms.
Refund / delivery	Non-approval refund described; obtain post-shipment terms.

If the missing information could change your decision, obtain it before paying.
