CLAIM AND EVIDENCE MAP

Three different kinds of evidence.

An advertised service, general FDA guidance and an individual prescribed product answer different questions.

01 / OFFICIAL OFFER

What Gala states

Assessment and clinician review; several possible treatment forms; $69 per month; no membership fee.

Useful for understanding the advertised pathway. Confirm the final plan and terms before payment.

02 / INDEPENDENT CONTEXT

What FDA explains

Hormone therapy has benefits and risks. FDA guidance distinguishes approved therapies from compounded hormones.

General context does not establish the safety or effectiveness of a Gala prescription.

03 / STILL UNRESOLVED

Your exact plan

The review packet lacks the exact product, strength, full label, current state eligibility and matched product evidence.

Obtain these details and discuss the risks, alternatives and suitability with the clinician.

A verified page statement is not a verified treatment outcome.

Sources: Gala /lp/hrt1; FDA Menopause; reviewed Daily Intel HRT v2 article.

COMMERCIAL COMMITMENT MAP

Follow the decision gates.

The captured page describes this pathway. Verify each transition in the actual intake and final terms.

01

Assessment

Before starting: confirm what information is required and whether intake creates a charge.

02

Clinician review

Confirm state eligibility, clinician licensure, risks and whether any prescription is appropriate.

03

Final plan

Obtain the exact medication, strength, route, label and pharmacy or manufacturer details.

04

Payment

Confirm the full first charge, recurring amount and refund conditions. The page advertises $69/month.

05

Fulfillment

Verify delivery availability, timing, refill process and the scope of account-based support.

06

Renewal or exit

Confirm renewal timing and when cancellation or a pause takes effect. Keep written terms.

A described pathway does not guarantee eligibility, a prescription, delivery or an outcome.

Source: captured Gala offer and the reviewed article. The final plan and price must be shown before payment.

BUYER WORKSHEET

Document the plan before paying.

Record the answer and where it came from. An unanswered question is a reason to investigate further.

- ☐ Exact product, route and dose
- ☐ Cancellation, pause and refunds
- ☐ Full label and supply status
- ☐ Pharmacy, delivery and refills
- ☐ Eligibility in my state today
- ☐ Risks, interactions and alternatives
- ☐ First payment and renewal amount
- ☐ Evidence matched to this exact plan

Discuss individual suitability with the evaluating clinician; the page cannot decide it.

Source: reviewed Daily Intel HRT v2 article. Educational decision aid; not a treatment recommendation.